

Uptime International AS is one of the leading providers of motion compensated gangways. Since the inception of the first motion compensated gangway in 1979 we have delivered more than 140 units worldwide. We work together with our customers to increase their uptime through safe and reliable offshore access.

Service Engineer – Mechanical/Hydraulics

As a service engineer, you, together with our team, will be on the front line and our face to customers and partners. You will work with installations, start-up, service, repairs, and upgrades of our gangway systems, all over the world. Together, the team contributes with good knowledge and service, to retain, develop and create new customer relationships. When travelling, you have close follow-up from our office by experienced project managers and engineers throughout the assignment. This position will be based out of our Dutch office close to Rotterdam.

Responsibilities

- Develop a detailed knowledge of our products
- Enable yourself to perform daily maintenance, troubleshooting and other field service-related tasks
- Responsible for hydraulic and/or mechanical operations
- Covering installation activities, usage of our systems, creating follow up orders
- Working to the highest safety and environmental standards whilst ensuring that service targets are met, you will be part of a team of Technicians (f/m/d) working throughout the world
- Other responsibilities will be to carry out periodic service inspections, overhauls, upgrades in our Dutch office when required.

Qualifications

- Minimum experience or degree within electricity, hydraulics and/or mechanics for at least 3 years. Automation/electrical skills is an advantage but not a requirement.
- Good knowledge of Dutch and English, verbally and in writing
- Offshore certificate (not a requirement)
- Driving license class B

Competencies

- Comfortable with working at heights
- Safety awareness
- Open and friendly attitude
- Good organizational skills
- Good interpersonal and customer relation skills

What we offer

We offer a challenging job, an excellent learning environment, and opportunities for a career at one of the world's leading gangway manufacturers.

You will become part of a highly professional environment in a growing industry. An attractive salary and benefits package is included.

The position reports to our Field Service Manager and involves extensive travel. For more information about our company, visit us on LinkedIn, Facebook or our website: www.uptime.no

Point of contact

Staale Botnen, Field Service Manager; 0047 958 63 013

Branco Schwarz, General Manager/Head of Sales and & Rental Netherlands: 0031 850 703 707

Application

Your application should include a cover letter and CV. Please apply no later than 31st of December: career@uptime.no

